

COLLABORATE!

Study and do research with students and partners in and from Asia, Africa, and the Americas!

Working together

connect with students from abroad and partner up for joint research

Teaching in Frankfurt

seminars at Goethe University with a focus on collaborative epistemologies

Summer school

three-day international summer school at Goethe University in July 2024

Mentoring

at our department in Frankfurt and at our partner institutions in Asia, Africa, and the Americas

Developing joint research support in your collaborative research endeavor connected to # realizing joint fieldwork in Frankfurt and abroad

 # spending one semester abroad
 # working with students from abroad at Goethe University
 # working online

twelve collaborative projects will be eligible for financial support

Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology (Institut für Ethnologie)
 Norbert-Wollheim-Platz 1
 60623 Frankfurt a. M.

Phone: +49 69 798 33064
 Fax: +49 69 798 33065
 E-Mail: ethnologie@em.uni-frankfurt.de

<http://tinygu.de/ethnologie>

Coordinator
 CollabAnthro
 Certificate Program

Timo Roßmann, M. A.
 Phone: +49 69 798 33076
 E-Mail: rossmann@em.uni-frankfurt.de

Departmental B. A./M. A.
 Degree Program Coordinator

Ronja Metzger-Ajah, M. A.
 Phone: +49 69 798 33074
 E-Mail: metzger@em.uni-frankfurt.de

JOIN OUR PROGRAM!

COLLABORATIVE ANTHROPOLOGY

For students at our department
 (B. A. Ethnologie/M. A. Sozial-und Kulturanthropologie)

funded by

ELLV/S
 Erfolgreich Vielfalt und
 Lehren Internationales
 und Lernen im Studium

INSTITUT FÜR ETHNOLOGIE
 GOETHE-UNIVERSITÄT FRANKFURT

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

opportunities for collaborative research between students in Frankfurt and at our partner institutions abroad

support structure for the development of joint research projects and the writing of B. A. and M. A. theses based on collaborative research

CollabAnthro Certificate

As part of the program, students can earn a certificate in Collaborative Anthropology (on top of the regular degrees). Eligible are all students enrolled in our B. A. and M. A programs in Social and Cultural Anthropology (Ethnologie/Sozial- und Kulturanthropologie) at Goethe University as well as all students enrolled in the cooperating study programs at our partner institutions

All students will be admitted upon request

Most activities related to the CollabAnthro certificate also count for the regular B. A. and M. A. study programs

OUT LINE

Collaborative research counseling

Counseling sessions (virtual or on site) with the program coordinator

Knowledge in collaboration

Courses in the regular study program on collaborative epistemologies

Virtual get-together

Regular meetings between all program participants

Reflecting collaborative research

Participation in a joint digital workshop to discuss research interests and reflect on possible formats for collaboration

Self study and matching

Self-organizing project teams, each with two to four students enrolled in at least two different institutions

Language skills

Enhancing language skills in English by participating in the program and in a second foreign language through courses or peer-to-peer learning (with an emphasis on local languages)

Designing collaborative research

Project teams participate in a workshop to develop and present joint research projects

Summer school 2024 in Frankfurt

Attending a three-day summer school at Goethe University (virtual attendance will be possible)

Joint research

Realizing a collaborative research effort. Collaborative research can be realized by conducting fieldwork together OR conducting separate fieldwork on the basis of a joint research framework and question

Documentation of research experience (research blog)

Project teams compile a joint entry for the CollabAnthro research blog

Completion and submission of thesis

The thesis is based on the collaborative research of the project team and counts equally for the regular study program as well as for participation in the certificate program. It can be submitted in the form of a group thesis

VISIT OUR WEBSITE

FOR MORE INFORMATION

<https://tinygu.de/collaboration>